

A TRUCE

Said To Have Been Arranged Between Turkey and Greece.

AN ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE.

The Royal Palace Stunned by an Unfathomed Mob.

KING WILL PROBABLY ABDICATE.

New York, April 29.—Dispatches from Athens say that a truce has been patched up between Turkey and Greece, but that the unrest at the capital still continues. The mobs in the streets are very disorderly and it is believed the King's life is in grave danger.

Athens, April 28.—Public excitement is increasing every hour. The foreigners are hoisting their national flags over the buildings inhabited by them. A popular outbreak is feared. Crowds stoned the palace, broke its windows and cried, "Down with the King; down with Prince Constantine; give us a republic."

Some pistols were fired among the rioters and many officers were mobbed. The opposition deputies have issued an address to the people in which they urge quiet and good order as necessary not only for the safety of the people but for that of the country itself.

The British minister here, E. H. Egerton, paid a long visit to the King yesterday, and the newspapers connect the incident with the possible intervention of Great Britain in the war between Turkey and Greece. The report that the King was compelled to sign a decree recalling Prince Constantine from the front is unconfirmed. The Crown Prince will remain at the head of the army.

DYNASTIC CRISIS FEARED.

Paris, April 29.—The "Matin" declares that the suppression of Prince Constantine, if made by royal decree, is equivalent to his renunciation of his rights to the crown. Continuing, the "Matin" asserts that the replacing of the premier, M. Delcassé, by M. Ralli, the Opposition leader, will not serve to arrest the course of popular indignation against the royal family, adding that a dynastic crisis, therefore, only proceeds a dynastic crisis by a few days.

King George is credited with desiring to abdicate in favor of his second son, Prince George.

The French newspapers urge the Powers to intervene between Turkey and Greece, especially as the fate of Greek dynasty is now involved and as Turkey has every reason to be satisfied with her victories, while Greece must accept the inevitable.

A CRUEL COMMANDER

Murders Seventy Inmates of a Cuban Hospital.

Havana, via Key West, April 29.—Commander Carlos Garcia, of the Spanish army, was badly defeated at El Morro, near Trinidad, where with the Soria battalion he tried to attack the insurgents. While retreating the Spanish commander found out that near by the insurgents had a hospital, and he gave orders to attack the place. There were about seventy persons in the hospital, among them children and women, and they were hacked to pieces. The Spanish report of this attack states that the insurgent forces made a stubborn resistance and that the loyal forces gained a great victory, killing about sixty insurgents.

The rainy season has commenced with all its force. It has been raining very heavily for several days, causing much sickness among the Spanish soldiers, who are dying of yellow fever. The number of cases increases every day.

Weyler has sent to Spain several officers of the army with grave charges of aiding the insurgents. He discovered that the officers exchanged ammunition and arms for cattle and money with a well known Cuban leader of Santa Clara province. Spaniards at Havana have called to Madrid that if the exportation of tobacco continues an uprising of the working people will take place at Havana.

At Bieja Hermedia, a small town in Havana province, so large is the number of people that the Spanish forces have concentrated there that most of them are dying of hunger. While the soldiers were eating a large number of women attacked them, for food for their children and themselves. Many of them had been wounded by the troops.

Weyler Returns to Havana. Havana, April 27.—Capt. Gen. Weyler has arrived here. He left Santa Clara on Sunday with his staff.

CITY TOLL HOUSE

Turned By Raiders at Lancaster—Murder Threatened.

Lancaster, Ky., April 29.—Raiders here last night turned the city toll house and endeavored to murder the keeper. He had, however, made his escape. They left a note telling him they would return and kill him if he further attempted to collect tolls. It is feared murder will be the next outrage committed by these desperadoes.

FREE ROADS.

Fiscal Court Purchased the Gravel Turpikes.

$43,000 THE PRICE PAID.

Not a Dissenting Voice—First Road to Be Opened Saturday.

LET THERE BE GREAT REJOICING.

McCracken county has free gravel roads.

Fiscal court met this forenoon at 9 o'clock at the county court house in called session, County Judge Tully presiding, and purchased the gravel roads of McCracken county.

All the magistrates, J. S. Gauster, J. H. Little, J. P. Winchester, D. W. Seale, R. S. Barnett, W. A. H. Anderson, H. C. Hartley and H. Anderson, were in attendance. There were several citizens and gravel road directors present as spectators.

The purpose of the meeting was stated in the call, and the court proceeded at once to business. The matter was thoroughly discussed, and the proposition of the city council, together with the ordinance, was read, and the court accepted the proposition.

Resolutions were read from the four gravel road companies, agreeing to dispose of their stock; the Paducah and Louisville for 50 cents on the dollar; Paducah and North Ball for 40 cents on the dollar; Paducah and Clark's River for 40 cents on the dollar, and Paducah and Mayfield for 35 cents on the dollar. The entire cost of all the turpikes in the county was $43,000. The Charles River Gravel Road Company wanted to withhold the property on which the toll gate now stands, but the court induced them to concede this also.

It was then voted to purchase the roads at the above cited cost, and to open them as soon as the deeds to the county are duly acknowledged. Cash will be paid, and tomorrow $10,000 will be paid and the present intention is to throw open the Cairo road for free passage on Saturday, May 1.

County Judge Tully stated to a six o'clock this afternoon that it would be but two or three days until all the money has been paid over to the stockholders of the respective roads, the deeds have been acknowledged and the roads thrown open for free traffic.

This afternoon the board left Lexington in carriages for the Louisville road to witness the operation of two new road machines.

A WALL OF WATER

Eight Feet High and a Mile Wide

SWEEPS ALL BEFORE IT.

A Cloudburst Carries Death and Destruction in Oklahoma.

AT LEAST TWO HUNDRED LIVES LOST.

Guthrie, Ok., April 29.—For miles last night the Canadian valley was a dreary waste, and her people are overcast with gloom. At sunrise yesterday morning a mighty wall of water from six to eight feet high and a mile wide, broke upon West Guthrie without warning, crushing houses, sweeping away property and drowning people by the score. Every movable thing was swept before the wave, which passed on into the valley with resistless force, wreaking terrible destruction to life and property wherever it reached. Dozens of human lives are known to have been sacrificed; how many more may not be known for weeks; hundreds of houses were wrecked; for miles farms were completely ruined, bridges and tracks were washed out, and railway traffic in every direction is at a standstill. The most complete chaos prevailed all day.

When darkness settled over the city the wildest stories were afloat. Many were claiming that fifty lives had been lost, and not infrequently men were heard claiming that fully 200 had perished. These estimates were thought by the more conservative to be exaggerated, but later reports leave no doubt the larger estimate is not too great. Lives were lost in every direction in plain view of the few who were heroically carrying on the work of rescue and of the many who stood helplessly at the edge of the raging waters. Men, women and children struggled in the torrent side by side with horses, cattle and swine, one perishing here, another there, and in other places several disappearing together beneath the flood.

The flood is supposed to have been caused by a cloudburst, supplemented by heavy rains.

The Cottonwood river, ordinarily a small stream that winds between steep banks in West Guthrie, was bank full from a heavy rain yesterday and last night, but no alarm had been felt, as the river had been rising gradually during the night. About 6 o'clock, however, waters from a cloudburst above had rushed to those already nearly up to the level of the high banks, and the flood was sweeping through West Guthrie, a section populated mostly by colored people.

Persons who saw the first wall of water said that it was about eighteen feet high, spreading entirely across the valley. There was no water in front of it save that in the river's channel. The first wave was followed by others in quick succession, until the whole settled into a bank of water from six to eight feet high. Many had already begun carrying their household goods to places of safety, but few had made more than one trip when they were forced to return for their lives before a raging, resistless torrent that no power of man could hope to stay. The main supply pipe of the water works system burst where it crossed the Cottonwood, in the southern part of the city, and all the water in the reservoirs poured into the river.

THE PERIL NOT PAST.

New Orleans May Expect Another Flood—A Break Below the City.

A special dispatch to the "Globe-Democrat" indicates that the peril of New Orleans is by no means past. It says the river gauge Tuesday evening indicated 19.3 above low water and still rising. There were no extraneous causes to produce this stage, and it looks as if the flood crest was within hailing distance of the city. Old steamboatmen who know the river practically and engineers theoretically look for a bad more of water. Unless there is a break in some of the neighboring parishes sufficiently large to relieve the strain, it seems probable the gravest apprehension will be realized.

Early this morning a break occurred in the levee on the Melrose farm, thirty-nine miles below the city. The place was formerly part of a large sugar plantation, but in recent years had been devoted to the cultivation of rice and truck farming. It is owned and managed by a Swedish family. The levee was regarded as comparatively safe. Most of the material at the levee boards disposal has been used to strengthen the levee, and consequently there were practically no means at hand of closing the break. By daylight the break had widened to forty feet, and

WHO, ME?

An Amusing Police Court Prisoner.

CREATES MIRTH FOR MANY.

He Got Thirty Days on the Streets For Vagraney.

FEW OTHER CASES CONSIDERED.

George Trice and Tandy Reeves, colored, were in the police court this forenoon charged with vagrancy. They were recognized yesterday for their appearance this morning, and strange to say, came back.

Trice was called before the bar of justice and asked to give a detailed account of the manual labor he had performed within the past six months. "Now, tell the court where you have worked," said Prosecuting Attorney Reeves.

"Who? me?" asked the darkey, as if he thought somebody else was alluded to. He did this probably as a dilatory measure, to provide time for inventing plausible answers. "Yes, you," sharply returned the court; "do you think I'm talking to somebody in the street?"

"Win't I work?" "Yes, that's what you were asked."

"I've worked lots o' places, I has." "Well, name a few of them?" "Name a few o' 'em?"

"Yes, name a few of them—name one o' them?"

"Who, me?" "Yes, you," more severely demanded the court.

The prisoner scratched his head and let his little memory glide back six months or more. He then named two places. He earned 50 cents at one place and 75 cents at the other—a vast amount of wealth for a man to have in six months!

"How old are you?" asked the court in disgust.

"Who, me?" "Yes, you." The spectators began to titter. "How old is he?"

"Yes, now old are you?" "Twenty-two."

"Where do you live?"

"What does I live?"

"Why don't you answer my questions without repeating them. Can't you hear?"

"Who, me?"—suddenly remembering— "Yes, I kin hear."

"Well, why don't you do it?" "Why don't I do it?" This time the laughter grew louder.

"Where do you live?" reverted to the court to the original question, with unmistakable signs of exasperation. "Me?"

"No," sarcastically, "some body out there in the hall—anybody—not you!"

"I lives with my dad-ly."

"Where?"

"Who, at?"

"No, leave the 'at' off."

"Lend it off?"

"Now answer this question: Where do you live?"

"What does I live,—let's see—I live on Harrison street 'tween Thirtieth and fourteenth."

"Does your father take care of you?"

"Does he tek er' ob me?" A controllable laughter.

"Does he feed and clothe you?" "Who, me?"

"No, your little brother, of course."

"Now, he don't feed me—when I ain't at home."

The court then passed sentence on the prisoner, bestowing on him a job calling for thirty days' time on the chain gang. Trice heard this with the slightest difficulty, and rising to his feet began arguing the case. The court attempted to stop him, but couldn't do it. Lockup keeper Keller was ordered to take him down to the lockup forthwith and keep a ball and chain to him. He had to drag him out, and Trice still had his head in the door arguing with the court when he was dragged away, still holding to the door to get in another word, to the bustle below.

Tandy Reeves, colored, was given a similar sentence for a similar offense. He admitted that he didn't know of but $3 he had earned in six months. Judge Saunders said this morning that he intended to break up idleness in Paducah, if sentences on the chain gang will do it.

Squire Ford, colored, also charged with vagrancy, showed that he owned a shoe shop, and was released.

The case against Thomas Griffin, charged with engaging in a fight with Pete Griffin, was settled today. A judgment for $3 and costs, instead of $5 and costs, was assessed.

Special train to Cairo to see the big ball game, leaves union depot next Sunday, May 24, 8:15 a. m. Only $1.00 for the round trip.

The frightened boy into the house and concealed himself until the boy returned, when he renewed his demands. The boy gave some curt reply and the darkey drew a pistol and shot at him.
